Install New Printer from Out of Box (Windows/Mac)

Windows –

- Insert the disk from the Printer manufacturer and follow the directions
- After install is complete, and if the printer is to be shared with others on the network:
 - Open the printer properties window and go to “Sharing”,
 - Click on Share this Printer and List in Directory (if there is no Server in your network and you are not on a Domain, do NOT list in Directory).

Mac –

To install a new printer on your Mac, do the following:

- Click on system preferences
- Click on Print and Fax
- Click on the lock icon located in the lower left corner if it is shut, to open it. You will need an administrator password to do this.
- In the printers panel click the "+" icon. Apple will use Bonjour to search the network for available network printers and also for any printers that have been attached directly to the Mac by USB or Firewire.
- The Mac will display a list of available printers. Simply choose the one you need. OS X will attempt to determine the best driver for the new printer, and install it automatically
- You can make a printer the default printer simply by "Command key" + Mouse clicking the printer and choosing "Set as default printer".
